We have absolutely no special offer to make in order to secure custom. It will come to as by force of will of an intelligent public, who must see through all species of light gauze games and flowers language in advertising some few articles as an attraction, which can but thrise temporarily, and is sure to be exposed and recoil upon their shameless authors. The sentiments of an honest community musi sustain the efforts of a reputable house who will not pursue such practices. Abuse is not argument, and we do not intend to be drawn into a personal contest, nor deal in personalities, if we can avoid it. We prefer rather that the public should examine our stock and see our prices and then judge for themselves.
